

SANJANA GUPTA

Inspired by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie's TED talk "The Danger of a Single Story," I desire to challenge singular narratives. As an enthusiastic student of Information Design with a deep passion for literature and storytelling, my interests span creative writing, book structures, anthology curation, and meticulous copy-editing.

Drawing from experience in graphic design and freelance editing, I thrive in roles that demand creativity and precision. Proficient in Adobe Creative Suite and Microsoft Office, I am committed to crafting compelling narratives.
